The sale of an important collection of American signature guitars

The breadth and quality of this collection take us deep into the history of the American electric guitar, through the most iconic guitarists of the rock and blues scene of the second half of the 20th century.

"Signature" guitars were born from the collaboration between renowned guitarists and manufacturers, and, whilst based on historical standard production models, they include unique features that reflect the playing style and preferences of the artists. Each guitar embodies a period in music history and represents a tangible testament to the life of a famous musician.

It was around the 1980s that companies such as Gibson and Fender began developing custom shops. Their purpose, from the outset, has been to produce instruments in small numbers, with particular attention to the materials and craftsmanship. They specialize in reissues of historical models from the 1950s and 1960s, reviewed and approved by the artists. The "Custom Shop" designation is therefore a guarantee of quality.

The collection in this auction was assembled by a discerning collector, and features several Gibsons, including the iconic Les Paul, as well as ES, SG and Flying V models. Signature editions associated with Eric Clapton, Jimi Hendrix, Chuck Berry and B.B. King bear witness to the golden age of blues and rock. There are also some beautiful Fender examples, including several of the legendary Stratocaster, amongst which signature models from Rory Gallagher, Eric Clapton and David Gilmour. Finally, it is worth mentioning the beautiful Martin signature models, created in collaboration with Mark Knopfler, Ben Harper, David Crosby and Paul Simon.

These guitars, produced in limited, often numbered series, are distinguished by their technical specifications and rarity. The sale of this collection thus presents a rare opportunity to acquire iconic instruments, both testaments of a bygone era and highly sought-after collectors' pieces.
